This very one moment i am always in I can't touch the depth I let my hand guide me to twenty circles
three spheres
a parallelepiped
and fractals
And then this helmet a door to another world to this instant with you Now that I'm lost in the making of an angel I let my hand guide me my narrative is a walking life a light structure almost supple you can't touch the depth without touching the truth
